

Lemonade Apples

Connect the dots and color the Apple your favorite color!

Lemonade apples are a new variety and member of the Rosaceae or rose family. A cross between the royal gala and the Braeburn with the golden delicious as a grandparent, Lemonade apples are a specialty variety that was created in New Zealand. Lemonade apples are favored for their fine texture and sweet-tart, juicy flavor. They are a good source of fiber and vitamin C.